Cody Coal and Grain Company at Malden Destroyed By Fire of 'Suspicious Nature'

'Rubbish Baby' Dead 7 Days Dr. J. S. Taylor Says

Augustine Held For Shooting Wife In Home Quarrel

Town of Saugerties Man in Jail for Grand Jury; Wounds Not Serious

Frank Augustine, Jr., 42, of the West Saugerties-Palenville road, town of Saugerties, is being held in the county jail on a charge of assault, first degree, growing out of the shooting of his wife Monday evening about 7 o'clock.

Augustine was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush and held for grand jury action.

State Police at Lake Katrine station were notified that Mrs. Augustine had been shot and was under treatment by Dr. Lester Sinking at the Dale Sanitarium for injuries which were not considered serious.

On investigating the troopers say they found that in a family argument Augustine allegedly shot at his wife with a 12-gauge shotgun and some of the slugs struck her about the hip. The gun was seized by the troopers.

Woman Killed, Two Hurt As Car Crashes on Bridge

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—A 22-year-old woman was killed and a man and another woman injured seriously early today when the car in which they were riding jumped a protective curb on North Channel Bridge in Queens and struck a steel pillar.

Police also reported they were told by a passerby that he saw another occupant of the car fall into Jamaica Bay when he was thrown from the vehicle by the impact.

None of the injured persons were able to give police further details of the accident.

The dead woman was Elizabeth Edna Long, 22, who suffered a fracture of the skull and amputation of her fingers on the left hand. She was identified by her father, Patrolman Jacob Long.

The injured man was Alvin Telshia, 26, driver of the automobile, who suffered a fracture of the skull. He and the unidentified woman were removed to Rockaway Hospital. All involved in the accident were residents of Queens, police said.

Sheriff Hears Aho Truck Forced Off Road

Alma Aho of Ulster Park notified the sheriff's office last night that a Chevrolet truck operated by Albert Aho, of the same address, had been forced off the Riffon-Esopus road about 9 o'clock last night.

The truck, a 1937 Chevrolet model, crashed into a telephone pole and was badly damaged, the sheriff said. A description of the car that forced the truck off the road was obtained and the sheriff's office is investigating.

Appraisals Confirmed

Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth has confirmed the report of Commissioner of Appraisal William A. Kelly, Nathan W. Math and Philip R. Murray, Jr., members of Delaware Section 10, Commission, awarding the sum of $700 for Parcel 1491, owned by claimants Frank D. Vandenberg and others. Counsel fee allowance is $35. The award for damages arising out of the construction of the Lackawack reservoir by the City of New York, was reported by the commission on December 2, 1946.

Legion Will Go to France

Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—Legionnaires will make their third mass pilgrimage to France next year. National Commander Paul H. Griffith said today the American Legion has accepted an invitation from General Bismuth, president of the French republic, for a sentimental journey to the Legion's birthplace.

Buy Plane for Russia

Manila, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Philippine government announced today purchase of a bi-engineered C-53 transport plane formerly used by Lord Mountbatten in his Southwest Asia Command for the use of President Manuel A. Roxas on inspection trips throughout the islands.

Hand That Led to Discovery, Other Parts of Body in Good Condition; Marbletown Probe Continues

The charred torso of the infant baby discovered in a pile of rubbish near the Horowitz residence in the Town of Marbletown Saturday, has been identified as that of a white baby who had been dead not more than seven days, Dr. J. Spottiswood Taylor of the Kingston City Laboratory, said today.

Dr. Taylor, who made the official examination for the district attorney's office, said everything except the infant's sex has been determined.

The child was white and in blood group "O" Dr. Taylor indicated. He said he believed the child had not been dead more than seven days when discovered by Louis Horowitz of Marbletown.

New Paltz Church Granted Leave to Sell Meeting Hall

Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth has made an order granting the petition of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church of 90 Chestnut street, New Paltz, for leave to sell the meeting hall property of the church on New Paltz Turnpike for the sum of $35,000. The hall is now used for motion pictures and is known as New Paltz Theatre.

Application was made for leave to the Supreme Court for permission to sell the property to Louis A. Rolling. The offer being for $35,000 of which $15,000 is in cash and a $20,000 purchase mortgage. Under the petition there is to be a minimum amortization of $1,500. The petition sets forth that the real property owned by petitioners is $96,300, the personal property $27,000 and the debts and liabilities amount to $37,949.77, secured by notes. The money derived from the sale will be used toward church improvement and reduction of outstanding debt.

Rifton Home Burns While Lobers Are Working Monday

Fire which was discovered by a passer-by, completely destroyed the two story residence of George Lober at Rifton Monday. When the flames were discovered the fire had made such headway that it was impossible to save the building. It was reported that when discovered the interior of the house was enveloped in flames and the fire was already breaking outside. No one was at home at the time, members of the family being at work.

Fire Discovered Too Late to Save Building; Origin of Flame Is Unknown

The Rifton fire department was summoned and St. Remy also responded to a call for aid. A two car garage adjoining the house was saved. How the fire originated is not known and the amount of loss was not estimated. When discovered the flames were so far advanced that it was impossible to save anything from the building and the contents and personal belongings of the family were totally lost.

Turkish Government Bans Red Political Activity

By EDWIN B. GREENWALD
Istanbul, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Turkish army policed eight publications in Istanbul today, prohibited the printing and distribution of organs of a "Communist" nature and outlawed branding of two new political parties. It described as directed in a camouflaged manner by Communists and people having extremist Communist tendencies.

One usually reliable source described the actions as a "small purge" and said they might be considered a warning that the Turkish government was ready to resist any "subversive movements."

Observers in Istanbul were struck by the strong wording of the army communiqué announcing the swift steps and were quick to note that they coincided with a rise of anti-Communist sentiment in Iran, just to the east of Turkey, and other events regarded here as possible harbingers of a changing attitude toward Soviet Russia.

Unconfirmed reports said persons of alleged radical tendencies had been arrested and numerous documents seized as secret police and the military descended on suspected establishments.

The steps were taken by the commander of the state of siege—which embraces the Istanbul area and extends north and west through Thrace to the Bulgarian and Greek frontiers.

They came just four days after Premier Recep Peker telegraphed restless Istanbul University students to be "calm" and not start any demonstrations which he said would make happy only those "who want to disrupt order in our country."

The military, under the state of siege, has full authority to seal streets and buildings.

Cody Lumber Yard Is Burned at Malden

Stacks of non-inflammable material, including a gaunt chimney behind which is one of the trucks destroyed in last night's fire, are all that remain of the flourishing Cody Coal and Lumber Company business at Malden-on-Hudson a few hours after the blaze broke out. White spots in the photo show the snowfall which began during the night. Of the fire Calvin Cody, Jr., said, "These things always happen to someone else. You just can't imagine having it happen to you." Damage was estimated last night by Mr. Cody as at least $100,000. (Freeman Photo)

Cold Wave Heads For New England

New Falls of Snow Accompany Sub-Zero Temperatures

(By The Associated Press)

A cold wave moved into a large section of the country today and as temperatures skidded to below zero in many areas federal forecasters promised colder weather tomorrow.

The chilly blasts which penetrated over the northern plains states yesterday moved across the Great Lakes region into the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys and headed for the eastern seaboard and the New England states. Forecasters said temperatures in the cold belt area would remain sub-normal most of the week.

New falls of snow ranging as high as nine inches and winds reaching a velocity of 45 miles an hour accompanied the sub-zero temperatures in the northern sections of Minnesota, Wisconsin and upper Michigan last night.

As the new mass of cold air moved eastward temperatures dropped an average of from 20 to 30 degrees and by tomorrow morning zero readings or lower were forecast to penetrate as far south as northern Illinois and extreme northern Indiana. In the northern parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin and lower Michigan the forecast was for temperatures or from 10 to 15 below. The storm accompanying the cold wave was moving up toward the Hudson Bay region.

The cold weather was not forecast for the southwestern section of the country or the Pacific Coast region. Temperatures of near 80 above were reported in parts of Texas yesterday.

In Dawson, Yukon territory, the starting point of the current cold blasts, temperatures were reported moderating, climbing to 40 degrees below zero yesterday as compared to last week's official -61 and an unofficial -70.

Townsend Faces Burglary Charge; Arrested Twice

Boxer Gets 60 Days Today for Vile Language; Women Blame Him for Break-in

Walter (Tiny) Townsend's boxing ability went for naught today in city court, where he was floored by a 60-day jail sentence for disorderly conduct and faced a charge of burglary in the second degree.

The 24-year-old lower Hasbrouck avenue pugilist, who defied Willie Champion, Cleveland heavyweight, at the municipal auditorium last Thursday, was arrested at 4:30 a. m. today at 117 North Front street for using vile and indecent language.

This charge was preferred by Mrs. Georgiana Evans, who lives at that address.

Detective Wesley Cramer arrested Townsend on the burglary charge, and at his arraignment submitted sworn statements from two women that he forcibly broke into a house at 46 Meadow street at 3 o'clock this morning.

The house is owned by Georgiana and Hickson and occupied by Ethel Brown, who furnished Detective Cramer with the burglary charge information.

Townsend asked for time to secure a lawyer to represent him and the case was adjourned to Monday, December 23, by Judge Matthew V. Cahill.

Unions to Talk Raises

Pittsburgh, Dec. 17 (AP)—Two top C.I.O. unions—representing 850,000 United Steelworkers and 600,000 United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers—go into policy-making committee meetings today with their 1947 wage demands still undisclosed. The United Auto Workers, third member of the C.I.O.'s "Big Three," has announced it will seek a 2 1/2 percent increase for its 900,000 members. C.I.O. President Philip Murray, who also heads the Steelworkers Union, said yesterday it was up to the individual unions to decide what specific wage demands, if any, are to be made.

Terry to Testify

Meriden, Conn., Dec. 17 (AP)—Edward P. Terry left here today for Washington, indicating he will report on financial dealings involving Theodore G. Bilbo during his seven years as secretary to the Mississippi senator. Terry is to testify before a Senate subcommittee investigating Bilbo's purported war contract activities. He is due in Washington early Wednesday morning.

Late Bus to Port Even

The Spinnaker Bus Line will run an extra bus out of Kingston for the convenience of Port Even shoppers and workers during the holiday shopping season. The bus will leave Port Even at 6:20 p. m., as usual, with the return bus leaving Kingston at 10 p. m. This extra service will start December 18 and continue through Monday, December 23.

U. S. and Britain Ask U. N. To Approve Our Atom Plan

Baruch Proposes the Commission Approve Plan for Outlawing Atomic Weapons

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 17 (AP)—The United States and Great Britain formally called upon the United Nations Atomic Energy Committee today to approve the United States' plan for harnessing the atom for peace.

Bernard M. Baruch led off with a proposal that the Commission approve now his plan for outlawing atomic weapons and using the atom for peaceful purposes.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, quickly seconded Baruch and asked that the American principles be incorporated in the report that the Commission must make to the United Nations Security Council.

In a brief speech to the full meeting of the Commission, Baruch said that the question had been debated long enough and that the time for action had come.

The American proposal, stressing international controls and inspections, was turned down flatly by Andrei A. Gromyko of Russia last summer. During the recent General Assembly sessions, however, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov agreed to international inspections and controls, which would operate outside the controversial veto but within the framework of the Security Council.

It remained to be seen whether, in the light of the development, Gromyko now would accept the Commission's plan.

Reich Settlement In $100,000 Suit

Four Cases on Day Calendar Also Settled

Settlement has been reached in the $100,000 negligence action brought by Clara Carr of Kingston against Cornelius Every, who operates a trucking business at Oneonta, for the death of her husband, Martin Carr, who was fatally injured last December when the truck which he was riding in struck a parked truck of the defendant on Route 28 near West Hurley.

Amount of the settlement was not announced in court.

Trial began Monday before Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth and a jury. Mrs. Carr sued defendant on the theory of negligence alleging that the tractor-truck was parked on the roadway during the early evening hours. Mrs. Virginia Every Oliver of Hurley was instantly killed in the accident. She was an occupant of the Carr vehicle.

Mr. LeVan Haver appeared for plaintiff, who is the mother of six children, and Judge A. J. Cook appeared for defendant with A. J. Cook, Jr.

The following four cases on the day calendar were also settled. No. 135, Charles H. Gaffney against Gustav Nickel and another; Nos. 164, 165 and 166, Ruth M. Nickel, Dorothy M. Nickel and Gustav Nickel against Charles H. Gaffney, all negligence actions. Connolly & Connolly appeared for Nickel and A. J. Cook for Gaffney.

There will be no further additions to the day calendar this term. No. 290, John A. Bonomi against Kaufman & Minter of New York, Inc., a negligence action, was announced as ready Wednesday morning and jurors were excused until that time and court recessed.

Vandenberg Ready for Republican Showdown

By JACK BELL
Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) was described today as ready for a showdown in the Republican conference if any challenge develops to his prospective dual role as the Senate's presiding officer and foreign relations chairman.

Senator Robertson (R-Wyo.) has served notice that he is opposed to any senator's holding two jobs of a "public" nature when the Republicans take over control at the start of the new Congress.

Robertson reportedly has the support of Senators Wilson (R-Iowa) and Langer (R-N.D.) in a move aimed (1) at barring Vandenberg from two offices and (2) at preventing Senator Whigg (R-Me.) from holding both the floor leadership and the chairmanship of the new commerce committee.

But friends of Vandenberg said

Huge Loss Partially Covered

Estimates Range From $100,000 Upward; Troopers Conducting Probe

Origin Unknown

Firemen Handicapped by Lack of Water Supply

An early evening fire described by State Police as of "suspicious nature" completely destroyed the large coal and lumber yard of the Cody Coal and Grain Company about 7:20 Monday night at Malden-on-Hudson, just north of Saugerties.

Calvin Cody, president of the company, estimated the loss at $100,000. He said the early estimate was conservative and the loss was only partially covered by insurance.

Bystanders, including employees and neighbors, predicted the damage would range between $150,000 and $200,000.

Mr. Cody was not available this morning for a more accurate estimate of losses in grain, feed, coal, and lumber.

Cpl. John Metzger of the B.C.I. division of the Highland State Police, told The Freeman that the possibility of arson has not been discounted and that the troopers are conducting an intensive investigation.

Cpl. Metzger said heavy suspicion was thrown on the heavy conflagration because of a series of mysterious fires that have been started in that area in Greene county during the past few weeks.

"Although the fire as yet is of unknown origin," Cpl. Metzger said, "it appears to be of an extremely suspicious nature. We are going to press our investigation until it has been determined whether the fire was accidental or criminal."

Despite the excellent cooperation of several fire companies, including a pumper from the Kingston Central Station, the fight against the terrific blaze was handicapped severely in the early evening by the lack of adequate water supply.

The total loss comprised the company's office, three lumber sheds, feed, coal and hardware shops, a garage, two trucks and a tractor. Two trucks were saved.

Rapid Headway

The conflagration, believed to have started in a lumber shed behind the office, gained headway within the two acre plot over which the company's buildings sprawl.

Mr. Cody said he looked out from his house across the way about 7 o'clock and everything was normal. He recalled that his brother, Alton, had made a routine inspection of the plant around 7 o'clock and had reported everything in order.

The possibility of arson entered the picture when Trooper Duffy, of the Lake Katrine barracks, said it was reported that fire broke out in two or three places simultaneously in the lumber shed.

Calvin Cody estimated the fire broke out about 7:20, or just about 20 minutes after a checkup by his brother.

"It was one of those things you figure can never happen to you," he said to a reporter. "It's always somebody else."

Fighting against heavy odds principally because of lack of water, four volunteer companies and a truck and hose unit from Kingston were unable to subdue the blazing holocaust before the flames had consumed almost everything in their path.

The Saugerties, Catskill, Glasco and Centerville fire companies responded quickly. An alarm was

Costly Snack
Big Spring, Tex., Dec. 17 (AP)—A calf helped himself to a $700 meal by swallowing the purse of O. D. Smith, Forsan, Tex., druggist.

Smith retrieved $335 in checks from the calf's mouth, but during the two and one half hours before the animal was killed, it digested all the rest except $140 in currency and checks.

Delayed Campaign
Ketchikan, Alaska, Dec. 17 (AP)—Ross E. Kimball, running for territorial labor commissioner as an Independent, mailed out his campaign literature last September 13 at Fairbanks.

He finished a poor third, however, in the October 8 general election, receiving a light vote in southeastern Alaska.

Today he found a possible reason for the light balloting. The relief ship Grommet Reeder arrived in this southeastern town from western and interior Alaska bringing mail long delayed because of a maritime strike. It included Kimball's campaign literature mailed last September.

Robin Hood?
Los Angeles, Dec. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Nadine Rathbone told police that two men attempted to rob her in her flower shop.

Her reply to the stick-up order was: "If you need the money worse than I and my four children, take it."

Instead of taking her money, Mrs. Rathbone said, they gave her $5.

Police Help
Chicago, Dec. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Lucille Jankovsky, 33, a taxicab driver of suburban Cicero was driving some passengers from a Loop hotel to the North Side last night when her machine stalled.

Mrs. Jankovsky flagged a passing motorist to aid her.

The motorist was detective Rocco Filetti of the vehicle bureau and he explained it's against the law for suburban cab drivers to pick up passengers in Chicago.

Mrs. Jankovsky was ordered to appear in traffic court.

Holding the Bag
Chicago, Dec. 17 (AP)—A diminutive young man walked into Charles Coffee's grocery store last night and ordered a pound of walnuts. Coffee weighed them out and put them in a bag.

"Nuts to you, I don't want them," said the man as he drew a revolver. "Hand over your money. My wife is going to have a baby."

Coffee told police he surrendered $100 and the bandit fled.

NEW PALTZ

New Palitz, Dec. 16—Christmas vacation will begin at the college on December 20 and will come to an end on Monday morning, January 6, when classes will be resumed.

The Ladies' Aid of the Reformed Church will hold its Christmas meeting at the home of Miss Arrietta Snyder on December 20 at 3 o'clock.

Little Glenn Hasbrouck entertained a number of friends on Saturday afternoon in celebration of his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McIntyre of Modena road entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Buckley and son, John Jr., from Long Island over the week-end.

Mrs. Isaac Dingee recently visited friends in Saugerties.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Johnston motored to Florida last week where they will spend the winter in Fort Lauderdale.

Mrs. Eugene Lynch has a position in Haverstraw.

Mrs. Ralph Moshon, former hostess of Arethusa Sorority in New Palitz, is now at Hartwick College near Oneonta.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dushner entertained the following guests at a family reunion in their home on Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Thad Tompkins, Albert Beatty and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beatty of New Palitz; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Beatty and Mrs. Josephine Parks of Poughkeepsie; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beatty and son of Clintondale; Mrs. Eleanor Young of Milton; Mrs. Frank Dushner and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. McKinstry of Gardiner.

Miss Grace MacArthur is spending the winter at Hotel Brevard, Cocoa, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McIntyre and daughters, Frances and June, visited their parents in New York. They returned with Mrs. McIntyre's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Chunks, also her sister and brother-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Toth and children, Joseph, Jr., and Robert were week-end guests at Mrs. McIntyre's.

The Community Christmas committee held its annual meeting Sunday afternoon in the Methodist Church parlors. Reports of the work for the past year were read by Mrs. Alvin Beatty, secretary and treasurer. Officers for the ensuing year are Louis LeFevre, chairman; Mrs. Vernon Roelofs, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Alvin Beatty, secretary and treasurer.

The headquarters of the committee will be in the rooms of the Health Center. Howard Sherwood, Mr. Pine and A. B. Bennett will be in the rooms on December 21 to receive contributions of food and clothing and Ray Morris will deliver the boxes.

Gulla Found Guilty Of Stealing Hotel Safes Last June

Monticello, N. Y., Dec. 17 (AP)—Walter Gulla, 31, of New York, was found guilty by a Sullivan county court yesterday on two indictments charging grand larceny in the first degree and possession of burglar tools in the theft of two safes from the Congress Hotel at Sackett Lake, N. Y., last June.

The safes were found intact in the woods near Loch Sheldrake the afternoon of the theft. The prosecution said they contained $50,000 worth of cash and jewelry.

Two other men pleaded guilty to grand larceny at the opening of the trial last Thursday.

An hour after it started deliberation, the jury asked County Judge George L. Cooke a question about the size of the safes, and he had the two 500-pound strong-boxes rolled into the jury room. The verdict was announced about a half hour later.

No date for sentencing was announced.

Those who pleaded guilty were George Gulla, 23, brother of Walter, and Frank Leotta, 25, both of New York.

Walter Gulla was arrested in his automobile a few hours after the theft, and the two others were picked up a few hours later in another car.

on December 24. Mr. and Mrs. George Bogert have returned to New Palitz after a week's vacation going to and from Florida. While in Florida they visited his grandmother, Mrs. George E. Johnston, and his aunt, Mrs. Cora Lawrence in Fort Lauderdale.

MANAGER FOR HARTFORD

Hartford, Conn., is the latest community to adopt the city-manager form of government. Hereafter, the city's business will be conducted by a council-selected trained expert, who will spend his time in administering the government and not in soliciting votes at luncheons and outings. Hundreds of cities, including one as large as Cincinnati, have city-manager governments; and have found them far superior to the old mayor-council type.

Old line politicians may be expected to fight the improvement vigorously. Both the Republican and Democratic organizations did so in Hartford, yet the vote was 21,000 for the change, and only 9,000 against.

An occasional city may be found which has tried the manager plan and reverted to mayors. Analysis in such a case is apt to disclose the fact that the manager chosen had no more preparation for his job than the usual mayor. But nowadays city managers are educated for this specific work.

There are courses of study for city managers at several universities, notably the one at Syracuse, N. Y. Those who attend them are thoroughly trained in city problems and administration. They do not depend for tenure or for getting sensible measures passed on procuring jobs for relatives of councilmen. They make city management a career and understand cities as physicians understand human bodies. When a city manager moves up he does so not into an unrelated political job whose only advantage is a larger salary, but into a larger city, for whose direction he has been prepared by his training and his experience in smaller communities.

FREE TRADE FOR FRANCE

Free trade would restore French prosperity, says Henri Bonnet, French ambassador at Washington. It would increase her exports and further the admission of needed articles.

Americans are so used to the idea of a protective tariff they forget that the United States is the world's greatest free trade area. Potatoes from Maine and from Idaho enter freely any of the other 46 states. Florida and California oranges compete with no block in the same markets. Other states do not levy a duty on Michigan-made automobiles.

The whole country benefits from this arrangement, though doubtless there are selfish local interests which wish there were some way to bar out goods from other states. If they tried it, with customs inspection and delay at every state line, they would soon realize how shortsighted the idea was and wish to return to the good free borders with no questions asked.

Henri Bonnet seems to have derived a hint from America.

BONDS FOR CHRISTMAS

The government has some excellent suggestions for the Christmas list: United States savings bonds, the popular "E" group. These are to be had for $18.75, $37.50 and $75 with the assurance that in ten years they will be worth $25, $50 and $100 respectively.

The Treasury Department has been pushing the sale of these bonds for two reasons: to distribute among as many citizens as possible interest payments on the public debt; to check inflationary spending, important at this time of excess consumer incomes.

It would be difficult to think of a gift more acceptable or more appropriate no matter who the recipient. It would be doubly welcome, first when it is received and secondly when it is cashed at increased value. Since in addition the bonds also help the nation, they should have a wide appeal for the Christmas stocking.

FRONTIER IN REVERSE

Yes, there were rough times in the old frontier days, when bold men bore their lives in their hands and fired at the lift of a pistol. But were they really any worse than in these current days of so-called civilization?

HIS TRUTH MARCHES ON

And so I was motoring from Springfield, Ill., to Davenport, Iowa. It had been a long and tiring tour through coal country and browned farms and hard roads in an ancient automobile. I had gone into department stores and five-and-tens and hamburger palaces after midnight, into places where conversation is spontaneous and the facts of life clear.

And then we were passing by New Salem, where once Abraham Lincoln lived in the attic of a tavern and wooded Ann Rutledge, who did not live long enough to know his greatness. New Salem has been made into a shrine. The houses of the old village have been reconstructed and furnished in their primitive simplicity and hardness. The crib under the family bed, the scatter rugs on the broad boards of flooring, the shotgun over the mantle and the kitchen utensils on the hearth—the simplicities intrigue the city-dweller who complained, only that week, so bitterly that the running hot water was a luxury and the electric refrigerator was of an ancient model. Life must have been hard in such a village as New Salem, Ill.; yet out of it came the greatest personality in American history.

And so I went into Rutledge's tavern and regarded the rickety ladder which Abe climbed to go to bed, to better still, to read by candlelight, the few books that came to hand and which he devoured with an intellectual gluttony that made them his forever. I saw him bow his head not to bump it; I saw him hunch his shoulders to get them through the opening. I saw him sit by the small windows to gaze upon the simple scene or to listen to the excited conversation of those who came to the tavern to drink a warm tippie at the end of a day's work.

We have moved far from that hard life, from carrying water in crocks from the village spring, from the cold crickets outdoors, from the everlasting struggle for palatable food. I could not help thinking of what a vacuum cleaner might have done for the women of those houses who too often died young from excessive toil and malnutrition. I could not avoid wondering what an electric light might have done for that tavern. And what a dozen motors housed in machines might have accomplished to ease life for these people.

But there was none of that in New Salem. Those men and women had only their hands and strong backs to work with and a spirit of determination and a belief in God that carried them through the wilderness from Kentucky to Illinois, to the road that runs from Springfield to the Mississippi. And they labored from sunrise until the flicker of the candles in the night wearied their eyes and brought on sleep. For only by endless labor could they have built this land for us to inherit and to use in all our profligacy.

And when I left the tavern and passed the village mill, worked by oxen, and passed the cobbler's shop where men labored without machinery—and this cobbler was the village capitalist who bought lands and created wealth—I realized how little we have really moved from those days. For fundamentally we are as they were, catering our lives in the family and hoping that through our efforts the lives of our children will be improved.

I sat in the automobile that could make 70 miles an hour or more on the open road and pondered the plodding, big-footed Abe Lincoln moving across that same earth, thinking his thoughts, cultivating his mind, forcing himself into the main stream of civilization, driving the Bible and Shakespeare and Coke and Blackstone into his being, elevating his spirit heavenward and finally giving to the world not a rail splitter with a 40-hour-a-week mentality but a hallowed philosopher who would one day speak to all mankind such a line as "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right."

New Salem was a retreat from madness during the week of John L. Lewis' strike.

SINUS DISTURBANCE

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

What is apparently not generally known is the difference between irritation and inflammation. If something irritates the eye or the nose an excess of water—head cold—is immediately manufactured by the surface covering the eye and nose in order to wash out whatever is causing the irritation. If something is irritating the bowel immediately extra water is manufactured by the lining or surface covering the bowel and diarrhoea occurs. Exactly the same thing occurs in the appendix and the irritated appendix with extra water manufactured tries to drive out the irritant. Similarly with a sinus, or sinuses.

Where inflammation occurs—infection—there is in addition to water or mucus the formation of pus. In Otorrhino-Laryngology (ear, nose and throat) Dr. S. E. Roberts describes the symptoms of simple irritation of the sinuses that is no formation of pus, only mucus being present. These symptoms are (1) discharge of mucus from the sinuses into back of throat; (2) sensation of the nose being obstructed and stuffiness without any mechanical interference such as an enlarged turbinate bone; (3) pain or headache in the region of the sinuses without any sign of pus as revealed by X-rays or the special type of lamp used to detect pus; (4) fatigue without any sign of real or organic trouble such as infected teeth, tonsils, gall bladder; (5) neuritis in various parts of the body (often above collarbone); (6) symptoms or signs of allergy. Dr. Roberts calls these symptoms of irritation of the sinuses, no pus present, a "sinus syndrome" or group of sinus symptoms, and bases his findings on observation of more than 1,000 cases over a period of 8 years.

Examination by the microscope of the discharge from the sinuses showed mucus throughout all the cells instead of pus and a block in the circulation which allowed lymph (part of the blood) to escape through the lining of the sinuses. What about treatment of this liquid catarrhal or mucous form of sinus disturbance?

The diet is important—leave out foods to which the patient is allergic or sensitive—avoid alcoholic liquors, remove or treat infected teeth, and the relief of nervous or emotional disturbances.

a current report from New York. Criminal gangs seem to be as well armed and as quick on the trigger as in the days of Mark Twain's "Roughing It." There are organized gangs ready for any assault, reckless and cruel in their operations. Their enterprises lately seem to be on a rising scale, growing in skill and boldness. Some gangs are said to be composed of scores or even hundreds of criminals. The most shameful part of it is that these gangs maintain their own lawyers to keep them out of jail.

(Copyright, 1946, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)
New York, Dec. 16—Oswald Garrison Villard, of New York, one of the genuine liberals on the original roster of the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League, strongly disapproves the secret police activities in which the league boastfully revealed itself in the attempt to purge a small organization called the Columbians, in Atlanta. In this coup, the Anti-Nazi League planted a New York woman as a secretary in the office of the Columbians and obtained photographs of the Columbians' correspondence by means of a camera disguised as a fountain pen. The exposure amounted to nothing more than publicity for the Anti-Nazi League and against the Columbians at the time of the denunciation, for no formal charges were made of illegal action by any individual and no person was arrested.

In the reaction, however, the Anti-Nazi League's secret disclosed as a secret snooping organization and dispatches from Atlanta said that when the Columbians had caught their breath they swore out warrants against James H. Sheldon, the directing chairman of the League, and two secret agents, including the woman secretary, charging them with making investigations illegally.

Mr. Villard does not recall precisely why he quit the league but he said he "quipped" he did so because of general dissatisfaction with "the way it was going." He withdrew several years ago. "We didn't do anything of that kind," Mr. Villard said. "It was purely an anti-Nazi movement. I was very much astounded by what I have read of sending people south and acting as detectives and trapping people. All I can say is that no action of that kind was taken when I was in it. Actions of that kind never were considered. I think the whole thing must have changed very much."

"If it were the same organization, I should say it was time for it to pass out of existence. It never was in its functions to undertake to purge anything in the United States."

The Columbians are alleged to be anti-Semitic and anti-Negro and there seems to be no reason to doubt that. There have been inexact references to sticks of dynamite but the value of the case, if any, against the Columbians, will not be established until the evidence is presented. Thus far, the "case" has consisted of publicity which, on second thought, and on research into the background of the anti-Nazi League, leaves the League in an exposed position.

As these dispatches have related the treasurer of this organization, which presumes to spy on Americans, violating their confidence and their privacy and exposing their private records to public view, is Isidore Lipschutz, a Belgian refugee who describes himself as an importer of diamonds.

American citizenship has been held up by the government. A writer in a publication strongly sympathetic with the League wrote in June, 1943, that Lipschutz was doing a gigantic job for the League and had "turned his vast business organization into what is virtually an adjunct of the League."

His "vast business organization" is not further described.

In a book called "I Find Treason," published by William Morris in 1941, an author calling himself "Richard Rollins" wrote:

"During February 1939, the executive secretary of the anti-Nazi League called me. The League was about to develop a large department of investigation. He wanted me to head it. I liked the possibilities for more action and power. The secretary had not exaggerated when he described the league as

Truman's Removal of Controls Over Building Is Part of Planned Policy Which Aims to Recapture Political Favor

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 17—Removal of controls over building and other items by President Truman is part of a planned policy which aims to recapture political favor with the people.

The November 1946 elections have been diagnosed by the administration as representing perhaps the peak of Republican gains and as likely to recede in 1948. The assumption behind such an analysis is that the people were irritated over meat and other price controls and that once the sources of irritation are removed the Democratic party will be revealed as basically strong again.

In other words, it is reasoned that if the President gets rid of the controls and does so before the Republican Congress meets it will appear to the voters that the Democratic party which put on the controls likewise took them off and that whatever happens after January 1947 becomes the responsibility of the Republican party.

Whether the Republican tide reached its height because of irritations over war controls or whether the tide has not yet reached its peak and will not until the presidential elections of 1948 is the big question among the political experts.

Members of Congress from the conservative branch of the Democratic party lean toward the idea that if President Truman handles the labor problem and the Communist issue firmly in the next year or more he will renounce and re-elect himself. The opposite view is held by the radicals or leftingers who think the cause of the 1946 defeat was failure to be more radical—or more "progressive," as they call it.

The Democratic conservatives point with satisfaction to recent events as vindicating their viewpoint. The rise in the popularity curve of the President since he tackled Lewis and the miners' strike with a bold hand is regarded as confirmation of the theory that the only thing bothering the people was the war-time excesses.

Mr. Truman is represented as ready to carry on with his strong attitude toward labor excesses. This delights the conservatives among the Democrats who are planting on the "Order of 76" and known as Dorothy Waring, or Agent 89," and, finally, looting the safe.

In accepting the help of the non-sectarian anti-Nazi League to "investigate" the Columbians in Atlanta, Eugene Cook, the attorney general and E. E. Andrews, the solicitor general, may not have considered the implications of this endorsement of irresponsible espionage by private organizations. An efficient, energetic public official with a small staff of intelligent investigators could have done at least as well under official conditions. Now these officials find themselves in a compromising association with an outfit whose former chief investigator proudly tells of feats of theft, burglary and smuggling, and boasts of the league's collaboration with secret, private foreign spying groups and whose treasurer, an alien refugee, is "doing a gigantic job for the anti-Nazi League, having turned his vast business organization into what is virtually an adjunct of the league."

Uneasy as they may be over the activities of the Columbians, the citizens of Georgia may be no more complacent over the invasion of their privacy and their rights by the non-sectarian anti-Nazi League.

State to Receive

Proposals on Soil Tests for Road

Albany, Dec. 16—Sealed proposals covering soil explorations and foundation investigations preliminary to reconstruction of an 11-mile section of Route 52 between Woodbourne and Ellenville, in Ulster and Sullivan counties, will be received at 2 p. m., Friday, January 3, 1947, by Charles H. Sells, state superintendent of public works at the state office building in Albany.

The work, which is estimated at $21,000, will include the drilling of some 127 holes at various locations along the proposed route, many sections of which will be relocated when it is reconstructed in order to bring it to modern standards. A minimum of six drilling rigs will be required to expedite the work and to complete a total of some 1,000 lineal feet of drilling that are estimated to be necessary. Spoils will be taken and analyzed, and other information obtained on which the design of the new highway will be based. Several bridge sites are also included where foundation information will be obtained.

Work is scheduled to begin within 10 days after award of contract to the successful bidder and is to be carried on without interruption throughout the winter months.

END RED-INSPIRED STRIKES
The Communist-inspired political strike should be given special attention by the 80th Congress.

It is one thing to guarantee for labor certain rights in the matter of collective bargaining. It is quite another thing to permit Communist agents to slip in under the same wire and operate for political purposes. That helps the pro-Soviet Fifth Column at our expense and labor's expense.

Permitting abuse of labor laws for seditious acts and for industrial sabotage has gone beyond the point of tolerance. To permit it any longer is simple stupidity.

If we do not distinguish between a strike promoted by pro-Communists with political angles, and a strike called for legitimate labor demands, then all labor will soon suffer from extreme legislative curb—bringing something like Mussolini's fascism—or else the day of the Third International's General Strike will arrive.

To date, our Administration has not been willing to make such a distinction. But then, to date we have not been willing to regulate unions, political or non-political.

Communist Inspired
The seven-months-old effort to tie up the Allis-Chalmers machinery plant in Wisconsin might be stirred by Congress as a fair example of Communist-inspired strike. Local No. 248 of U.A.W.-C.I.O., spearheading the strike effort, is top-heavy with officials and committeemen who, in the recent political campaigns actively supported Sigmund G. Eisencher for governor of the Communist ticket.

I have a photostat copy of nomination papers circulated in Wisconsin for the purpose of getting Eisencher's name on the election ballot. On the upper part of the document was printed, in capital letters, the word COMMUNIST. Anybody who could read could see that Red brand at a glance. Nobody able to sign his own name, or listen to the radio or read a newspaper, could have kept from knowing he was supporting a Communist ticket.

Yet 84 of these Communist nomination papers were circulated by officials and members of the striking Allis-Chalmers Local No. 248, U.A.W.-C.I.O.

The majority of the top officials of the local, including the president, the vice president, the financial secretary, the treasurer, the sergeant-at-arms, and numerous committeemen, signed the nomination papers for Comrade Eisencher.

Most of the top members of the staff of the official C.I.O. newspaper of the state and county C.I.O. organizations likewise signed.

It is interesting to note that even the attorneys usually retained by this union also signed!

So did all the outstanding members of the self-styled educational staff of the striking union.

Do you suppose these lawyers and "educational" people thought they were supporting a pro-American candidate?

Everybody is entitled to his own definition of a Communist. As for me, the man who passes the ammunition is as guilty as he who fires the gun. In the current terrific attack on our industry, our maritime commerce, our military secrets, our unity in free ideals—all who fight beside the Communists must expect to be fought as Communists.

Those so-called labor leaders who supported Communist Candidate Eisencher come under this head, as do the C.I.O. muscle men who reportedly have been running masses of pickets from other states into the Allis-Chalmers strike area to help the local keep non-striking, non-Communist workers away from their jobs.

It is encouraging to see that after the first four or five months of enforced idleness 2,000 employees had the courage to defy the pro-Communist unionites, battling their way back into the plant. More recently several hundred others have joined the back-to-work drive.

But it is not a happy commentary on our labor laws and government machinery that these loyal workers have had so little support. I think their only support, in fact, came from local police—not from the federal government.

Normally, local police and court action ought to be sufficient, given the proper laws. But this is a political strike. Congress must give us a more clearly defined basis for action in such cases. Some Congressmen are likely to propose a constitutional amendment, they have told me, outlawing the whole Communist movement. That would permit quick arrest and trial of any Red agent sabotaging labor or any other group.

Norway Goes for Coal

One of Norway's first postwar jobs was rehabilitation of coal mines on the island of Spitzbergen, her only domestic source of coal. War damage to plants, mines and other facilities have 800,000 living facilities have been built for 800 workers and if sufficient labor can be provided and ice breakers can keep the channel open, annual output may be 800,000 tons of coal by 1951, Oslo reports.

There is before the constituent assembly in New Delhi a resolution calling for an independent, sovereign republic of India—a highly explosive measure which, if adopted, could easily precipitate civil war among the four hundred millions of that vast sub-continent.

The point is that the government and assembly as now constituted represent only one party
—the dominant Hindus. The Moslem League, claiming to stand for 50,000,000 Moslems, and the some 600 princes who rule over 90,000, 000 subjects, haven't agreed so far to participate in the provisional government. Thus any measure passed by the legislature would in effect be unilateral, since it would represent only the Hindus.

There you have a kettle of trouble—at least potential trouble. Un-happily the political divisions in India are largely on religious and racial lines. The feud between the Hindus and the Moslems has been the source of rivers of blood through the centuries. As recently as the past summer thousands of people died in fierce communal strife in various parts of the country—strife which was the outgrowth of the political warfare

Votes to Settle G.O.P.

House Leadership Fight

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—Actual votes, rather than a compromise, will settle the House Republican floor leadership fight.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts indicated today that he will become House speaker when the new Congress convenes January 3, told newsmen there is no foundation to reports that the leadership battle might be compromised by designating Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio chairman of the House Republican steering committee.

The Massachusetts lawmaker made it clear that the steering committee will be retained as the traditional policy-making group and that he will remain as its chairman, a position he held while minority floor leader.

Reports that Brown would be offered the steering committee chairmanship spread last week as some influential Republicans sought a way to avert a showdown fight between Brown and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

Should the leadership controversy remain unresolved when the Republican members caucus on January 2 to choose their floor chief, the candidate with the most votes in the caucus will receive the post.

Veteran Teacher Continues Fight Against Retirement

Stockbridge, Mass., Dec. 17 (AP)—
A three months siege by 67-year-old Ralph Barnes for retention of his teaching post at Williams High School continued unabated today.

Barnes has reported daily since the opening of school in September despite the town school committee's demand he retire. He spends his school hours reading in a small basement room.

A veteran of 45 years as a teacher, Barnes says he has no intention of complying with a request that he retire because of his age.

Barnes, whose annual salary is in the capital. Over a short period in August more than 300 were killed, and nobody knows how many injured, in the great city of Calcutta. Things got so terrible that the sewers were choked with the dead.

If horrors like that can grow out of political differences, what can we expect to result from a unilateral declaration of independence by one of the political parties? Many observers believe that former British Prime Minister Churchill gave the answer when he declared in the House of Commons on December 12:

"Any attempt to establish a reign of Hindu numerical majority in India will never be achieved without civil war. This war will, before it is decided, lead to an awful abridgment of the Indian population."

"Awful abridgment" is right for, so far as one can foresee, a civil war would have to run its course. The British are said to have only about 50,000 English troops in that whole vast subcontinent. Attempting to restore order with them would be like trying to police New York city with two cops. Of course there is a big native standing army, but one would scarcely expect the British to try to employ that made up as it is of both Moslems and Hindus.
The only hope of averting catastrophe in India lies in finding some formula which will permit the warring factions to join forces in creating a new government to implement the independence which

England has offered. Dr. Mukund Ramroo Jayakar, former federal judge, has proposed to the constituent assembly that discussions of the constitution be postponed until the Moslem League and the Indian states participate. The fate of India would seem to depend on the outcome of the debate in the assembly.

Unified Command For Armed Forces Abroad Agreed on

Frangle Over Merger at Home Still Left Unsettled; Truman Approves Plan

By ELTON C. FAY
Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—The army and navy agreed today on unified command for armed forces abroad but left unsettled the frangle over merger at home.

The joint chiefs of staff, with the bitter experience of Pearl Harbor's dual command in mind, climaxed a long series of negotiations by announcing a plan under which overseas forces will be under the operational command of a single man—army, navy or air as the situation dictates. The plan was approved by President Truman.

The establishment of seven overseas commands among other things whittled away some of the domain of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and put under navy say areas of the Pacific he had controlled. It also reestablished some pre-war commands and created a new northeast command, its details as yet undisclosed.

Concurrently with the announcement of the single command plan for overseas organizations came a congressional committee recommendation in another field of combined operation.

The House Military Committee proposed that permanent legal status be given to the National Intelligence Authority established by President Truman last January. The agency was created to weave together the intelligence operations of various government agencies including the army's G-2 section, the navy's Office of Naval Intelligence and units of the State Department which include vestiges of the wartime Office of Strategic Services.

Members of the Authority, the committee said, should be the secretaries of the State, War and Navy Departments or deputies chosen by them to share in the activities. The three secretaries, along with a member appointed by the President, were named in the authority as created a year ago.

Permanent Set-Up
As a permanent set-up, the committee said the agency should get its money directly from Congress and should have complete control of its personnel rather than receive its employees from the three departments.

The joint chiefs of staff plan was variously interpreted by those interested in the service unification argument.

Major Gen. William H. Arnold, deputy chief of staff for operations and planning in the army, replied to reporters' questions with a statement that "this is the closest approximation you could get without having unification" of the two departments. The army has urged such a merger, the navy has opposed it.

Those in a position to know the trend of navy thought noted that the navy from the outset of the merger squabble had emphasized the desirability of a unified, single command for operating forces outside the country but argued that simple facilities exist for coordination between the two departments in this country.

The joint army-navy announcement last night said each commander will be responsible for unified planning for defense and, in case of emergency, for the conduct of operations. It was not clear how this unified operational command would function in overall planning involving other phases of defense and campaigning.

In answer to questions, Arnold said that it was purely an operational command, the responsibility for such things as administration and supplies being retained by the respective commanders of the individual forces in the area.

Under the new system the seven commands will be:
Far East, MacArthur; European, Gen. Joseph T. McNarney; Pacific, Adm. John H. Towers; Alaskan, Maj. Gen. H. A. Craig; northeast, commander to be named; Atlantic Fleet, Adm. Marc A. Mitscher; Caribbean, Lt. Gen. Willis D. Crittenden.

No Reports of Trouble As Snow Blew Off Street

The light snowfall of 10:30 Monday night, which did little more than whiten the ground, caused no trouble on the city streets, due to the fact that the temperature was so low that it did not melt and the wind blew it off from the streets, is the report from the Board of Public Works.

Superintendent Ernest A. Steuding made a personal inspection of the streets during the storm, especially noting the hills and found no signs of trouble. He added that if it turned cold following the rain this morning the story might be different. In any event, he added, the Board of Public Works is prepared to meet the emergency.

Deputy Pleads Innocent

Carmel, N. Y., Dec. 17 (AP)—Frederic William Mortenson, 33-year-old special deputy sheriff of Yonkers, N. Y., pleaded innocent yesterday when arraigned on a charge of first degree assault before Putnam County Judge John P. Donohoe, who released him on $1,000 bail. Mortenson is accused in the alleged holdup of Lester Connelly, superintendent of Falmouth State Park, near Carmel, of November 2.

Additional Scenes at Malden's Lumber Yard Fire

flashed to Kingston and after considerable delay in locating someone in authority at the scene of the fire, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy took a number with 1400 feet of hose from the Central Fire Station to Malden. By that time the flames had almost completely destroyed the buildings.

Lack of Water

The almost complete lack of water in the early stages of the fire rendered the firemen helpless. Later in the evening a big locomotive backed onto the siding between the lumber yard and the railroad station and a Saugerties pumper hooked hose into the 15,000 gallon tank. The move was designed to protect the station.

Water was directed at the worst portions of the blaze. The locomotive was an L-2 type and was en route to Selkirk from Weehawken, according to Conductor H. T. Kurig, of North Bergen, N. J. The locomotive was detached from a passenger train at Kingston and rushed to the fire scene.

The engineer was W. J. King, of Weehawken; and the fireman, W. S. Kinsey of North Bergen. Forty tanks of domestic (bottled) gas, stored on the second floor of the feed store, exploded. When they exploded several arches high into the air, shot over electric light wires and landed on the roadway.

A light southerly wind diverted the flames from several houses close by and several firemen stood by ready to battle the flames if the wind direction changed and the houses were threatened.

Cpl. John Metzger and Troopers Charles Austin and J. L. Duffy of Lake Katrine were at the scene early and began an investigation while the fire was still raging. The troopers felt that the conflagration was part and parcel of a series of incendiary fires that have bedeviled residents in that area for the past two months. The arson theory was given strong support by the troopers.

The only water available at the start was from a few surrounding wells which was soon exhausted. Then two of the fire trucks were sent to a way and brought additional water. The water was used to wet down nearby residence buildings and delay possible fire.

The firemen and neighbors did excellent work in removing the household effects from the homes of Peter Stoley, William Ward and others when their destruction seemed certain. However, the flames did not reach the houses and when they were definitely regarded out of danger the contents were replaced and the families occupied their homes for the night.

A large number of rabbits in a rabbit farm a short distance from the fire were removed to safety as quickly as possible. It was believed that some of them gained liberty. One rabbit was reported racing madly across the highway with his fur burning.

Light Wind Helped

The smaller coal yard of Peter Stoley adjoining the Cody yard was threatened but fortunately escaped the flames. Firemen said that the entire neighborhood might have been destroyed had there been a heavy wind at the time. Luckily the light southerly wind kept the flames from spreading beyond the immediate buildings of the Cody yard.

The Cody Company was established a number of years ago by the elder Calvin Cody and since his death the business has been operated by his two sons, Calvin, Jr., and Alton J. Cody, who have built up a large and prosperous business.

As an aftermath to the fire, Eugene Girgat, a citizen of Malden, told the news last night that had the township favorably considered a fire district there, as was advocated five years ago, the loss might not have been so great with an adequate water supply available.

Mr. Girgat pointed out that a Gloversville engineering company had furnished plans for a fire district and that a petition with accompanying plans would be presented to the district voters today. The petitions, if sufficient signatures are effected, will be presented to the Town Board later for proper action.

Those interested in the water district propose to tap the Blue Mountain reservoir which supplies Saugerties with water, claiming there is ample supply there for the needs of the added district.

Lay Hose Under Tracks

Chief Joseph L. Murphy of the Kingston Fire Department said that water to fight the fire was brought from the creek, a quarter of a mile or more distant and the other side of the railroad tracks, by means of pumper relay.

The Catskill pumper was stationed at the source of supply, it was stated and pumped the water from the creek and then through a line of hose to the Saugerties pumper. The latter boosted it to the scene of the fire, where it was taken from a single 2 1/2-inch line of hose and fed into two 1 1/2-inch lines.

It was necessary to lay the main line of hose under the West Shore tracks in order to reach the fire.

Mercury Moves Up After Low of 25 at 1 A.M.

Lowest temperature recorded for the night at the city engineer's office was 25 degrees, at 1 o'clock this morning. Later the mercury moved up to around 34 degrees. The high Monday was 32, at 2 p. m.

The snowfall about 10:30 last night was recorded as just a "trace."

Booked on Homicide

New York, Dec. 17 (AP)—A 25-year-old ex-sailor was booked on a homicide charge today after detectives said he signed a statement that he strangled his estranged wife with a cord from a box containing a fur coat he had given her as a Christmas present in a futile attempt to effect a reconciliation. Detective Lt. Michael Melia said the man, Tony Milazzo, now a fruit dealer, told him he killed his wife, Anna, 24, in an automobile he borrowed yesterday to drive his wife from Brooklyn to Manhattan to pick up the coat.

Girl May Be in Gravel

Bennington, Vt., Dec. 17 (AP)—Workmen were assigned today to excavate a gravel pit near the entrance to Bennington College in a search for Paula Welden, 18-year-old sophomore missing since December 1. Lt. Robert N. Rundle of the Connecticut State Police, leading the hunt, said it was possible that the pretty student attempted to climb the 75-foot embankment of the pit and caused a landslide.

New Directory Distributed Here

Many Interesting Items Are Covered in Book

The new Price and Lee Kingston city directory is now being distributed. The Chamber of Commerce announced today. Distribution at the present time is about 75 percent complete, the Chamber said.

This year's edition of the section devoted to the alphabetical directory contains the names of more than 20,000 individuals. The section devoted to "What You Should Know About Kingston" and the statistical section of the directory, contain some additional and more up-to-date material this year.

Other interesting items covered are: Tax rate—per capita debt; Financial—where total deposits have been given up to June 30, 1946; Post Office receipts—fiscal year ending June 30, 1946, which were furnished through the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce. It has been noted, however, that an error has been made in this section under the heading "Trade Retail," where the statistics referring to the people served and the jobbing territory have been reversed.

The "Early Kingston" section produced by Robert L. S. Rhinehart of the mayor's office, contains an excellent summary of Kingston's early history and of the Kingston of today, plus an outline of nearby points of interest.

As usual, a small map of the city is included in the inside back cover of the directory. The total number of pages is 730, compared to 670 in 1945.

Additional copies are available. Anyone desiring information concerning the purchase of a directory may obtain it by phoning 5100, the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

Former Polish Count Sues Wife for $200,000

Chicago, Dec. 17 (AP)—Anthony Potocki, 43-year-old former Polish count who 11 years ago eloped with a Chicago heiress, says in a suit on file in Circuit Court that his mother-in-law alienated the affections of his wife and their four year old daughter and he asks $200,000 bailm.

Potocki, who renounced his Polish title when he became a naturalized American citizen, said in his suit that his 34 year old wife, Gloria Griffiths Potocki, deserted him through efforts of her mother, Mrs. Flossie M. Griffiths. He alleged that his mother-in-law's own marriage to George W. Griffiths, wealthy contractor "had flourished on the stormy waters of selfishness and conceit" and in seeking to disrupt his married life she was "motivated by sinister designs which characterize a dictatorial mother-in-law." Mrs. Griffiths was divorced in 1935.

Potocki, who now is a salesman, further charged that Mrs. Griffiths was intent on acquiring a miserable companionship in her frustration by the alienation of her daughter's affection for the plaintiff. Her efforts, he said, finally succeeded in turning her daughter against him and caused Mrs. Potocki to desert him.

Bilbo May Get Chance to Tell His Side of Story

He Plans to Present Written Statement; Ready to Answer Any Questions

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—Senator Theodore G. Bilbo (D-Miss.) appeared likely today to get a chance to relate his side of the story of his relations with a dozen war contractors who:

1. Loaned him money;
2. Bought him a car;
3. Bought him a lake and
4. Chipped in more than $30,000 for his futile campaign to elect Wall Dooey to the United States Senate in 1942.

With the witness list drained low, Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) of a Senate war investigating subcommittee said Bilbo probably would be called today. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) likewise told a reporter "it looks like 'The Man' will get his chance to talk."

Bilbo sometimes refers to himself in campaign speeches in the third person, as "The Man Bilbo." He has been an attentive listener to all the proceedings since the public hearings started last Thursday.

The committee would have preferred to wait for Bilbo's rebuttal until after examining Edward P. Terry, Bilbo's secretary from 1939 until last January.

But Terry, who claims his life has been threatened if he says anything against his former boss, has been in a Quinman, Miss., hospital with a heart ailment and is not due to arrive here until tomorrow morning.

Bilbo told reporters he planned to present a written statement explaining his side of the affair. He recently underwent a mouth operation and cannot yet wear his denture comfortably.

Although his speech is somewhat slurred and indistinct as a result, Bilbo said he is ready to answer any questions the committee may put him. He recalled that despite his mouth trouble he was able to testify for two hours during another recent inquiry at Jackson, Miss.

That hearing was conducted by the Senate Campaign Investigating Committee into charges that Bilbo tried to keep Negroes from voting in last summer's primary. It has not yet announced its findings.

Republicans are counting on the two hearings to provide ammunition to deprive Bilbo of his Senate seat. Yesterday's session brought details of how contractors—all of whom held lucrative government construction contracts in Mississippi—painted the senator's "dream house" home at Poplarville, contributed to the nearby Juniper Grove Baptist Church at his request, dug him a swimming pool and performed other favors.

The senators also heard Abe Shushan, New Orleans wholesale dry goods merchant and one-time Huey Long lieutenant, tell how he drove to Mississippi in 1938 to lend Bilbo $3,000 at the request of a mutual friend, the late Grant Stewart of New Hebron, Miss. Shushan said he handed Bilbo the money under a shed where they had taken refuge from a driving rain.

City-Wide Hanukkah At Temple Sunday

A city-wide Hanukkah festival will be celebrated Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in Temple Emanuel vestry hall. This will mark the first time that the religious schools of Congregations Ahavath Israel, Temple Emanuel and Agudas Achim have combined for a joint celebration.

Hanukkah is the Feast of Lights and Rededication in commemoration of the rededication of the second temple and celebrates the heroic victory of the weak over the strong. A small band of Jews, Hashmonaens, headed by Judas Maccabaeus conquered the large army of Antiochus Epiphanes.

Vandenberg Ready For Showdown

$30,000,000 in congressional appropriations expected to be asked for the U. N. and several of its auxiliary organizations. But the Michigan senator has served notice that a proposed United States contribution of $75,000,000 toward the $165,000,000 to be spent by the new International Refugees Organization may have to shift for itself.

The charter is so drawn that the refugee organization comes into operation when 15 member nations representing contributions of three-fourths of the $165,000,000 sign up.

The United States' share would remain $75,000,000 of any amount thus guaranteed, and Vandenberg is said to feel that the American contribution might be out of proportion to what other nations gave finance an undertaking that might fall short of solving the whole displaced persons problem.

any publication it considers harmful to the security or tranquility of the public. The state of siege, already in force here for three years, recently was renewed for another six months.

The two new political parties, branches of which were outlawed in the state of siege zone, were the Workers and Peasants Socialist Party and the Turkish Socialist Party.

Suspended indefinitely by the army were the political magazines Sendika, Ses, Gun, Yigin, Dost and the Armenian newspaper Nor-Or, all of which were accused in the communiqué of "propagating opinions" of groups affiliated with the two outlawed political party branches.

The morning newspaper Yarin was suspended for four months on a charge that one of its articles "spread propaganda to destroy political and juridical order of the country."

The weekly magazine Buyuk Dogu was suspended for a like period because, the communiqué said, "by its reactionary ideas it has been judged harmful to security."

Breaks Arm in Fall

Answering a call to 41 East Strand shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night, Officers Messing and Hyatt with the radio car took Angeline Appoloni, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Appoloni, to the Kingston Hospital, where she was treated for a broken arm, sustained in a fall. Later she was returned to her home.

Sorosis Has Final Meeting Before Holidays Monday

Sorosis held its final meeting before the holidays Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Grover Lasher, 75 Lucas avenue. The home was attractively decorated for the Christmas season and following the regular meeting tea was served with Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, president, pouring.

During the meeting a report was made of current topics in which special interest was shown in the possible engagement of Princess Elizabeth and the Prince of Greece. In the absence of Mrs. Fred Ertel, Mrs. Clarence Dumm acted as program chairman and introduced Mrs. Lorraine B. Wood who gave a paper on Canadian Industries. She spoke of agriculture as one of the main industries with a great quantity of foods being raised. The Macintosh Apple was originated near Ottawa. Although there has always been much wild fur in Canada the industry of fur farming is growing. Montreal is spoken of as the international fur market. Mrs. Wood spoke of the new industry of gathering peat for fuel. She also reported on the fisheries, mining, forestry and chemicals. She said that Canada is the leading asbestos producing country and also produces greater quantities of peat than any other country.

After the reading of the paper, Mrs. Dumm conducted a Christmas game. The next meeting of Sorosis will be January 13 at the home of Mrs. Vernon Hull, 259 Smith avenue.

Schola Cantorum Formed at Bard College; Plans First Concert for Wednesday Night

The Schola Cantorum, a newly formed choral group at Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson will present its first concert of the season Wednesday evening at the First Parish Church in Hudson. The program, which will start at 8:30 p. m., will be comprised of special music.

Several local people will appear with the Schola Cantorum in its Hudson performance. John M. Stekette, son of the Rev. and Mrs. John B. Stekette, 198 Washington avenue is the student manager of the group. Raymond Howe of Port Ewen, well known in Kingston music circles, Gordon Taylor, Robert Corrigan, and Robert Mooney of Kingston, Virginia Slater of Saugerties, and Sandra Roome of Woodstock are participating members.

Eighty students, who represent a considerable proportion of the undergraduate body, have been grouped under the direction of Judson Rand of New York City to form this new organization. An ambitious concert schedule for the 1947 season is now being arranged to include several cities in the Hudson valley area. Dr. Edward C. Fuller, recently inaugurated president of the college, is hopeful that through the Schola Cantorum and other student projects closer to the cultural interests of neighboring Dutchess, Ulster and Columbia counties.

Conducting Wednesday evening's program will be Judson Rand, an alumnus of the college who has gained prestige in New York music circles. During his undergraduate days at Bard Mr. Rand was organist and choir master at the Parish Church in Hudson where the concert will be held. Subsequently he transferred to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York city, as assistant organist. In 1939 he was appointed organist and choir director at the historic old Christ Church in Cambridge, Mass., two years later joining the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. He is now director of music at the Old Bergen Church in Jersey City, and conductor of the Jersey City Choral Society.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

Editor of "Freeman," "Children Are People," etc.)

"TEA" IS MISUNDERSTOOD

A church committee of women whether a "high tea" would be a good idea for a money-making party, instead of the ordinary afternoon tea. They follow suggestion with the request that I describe this special tea. The answer is that it should not do at all. The menu of high tea is even more substantial than that of a formal dinner, means a table groaning with foods—creamed or fried oysters, fried chicken, Maryland, creamed potatoes, coffee, and chocolate with whipped cream, and several varieties of hot cakes and, of course, waffles! A light supper would be simpler. Afternoon tea the simplest, this last exacts nothing but cookies and sandwiches.

Sending a Husband's Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: Wasn't it in your husband to invite some of his men friends, when he wanted to see them, to come to their wives to an open house at the holidays? He did this last year and several of them never turn up. Afterward, we learned that the wives, not knowing me personally, did not like to come on my husband's invitation alone. Wasn't that a bit stiff for this day and age?

Answer: It does not seem "stiff" to me, especially on the part of the wives who know you. In any case, I think your experience last year should suggest that you follow up your husband's invitations, even in cases where the wives are not strangers, with your husband (Mr. & Mrs.) visiting on which you write.

Looking forward to seeing you

"Extra Ushers"

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be permissible to have extra ushers? I am having only two bridesmaids, but there should be additional ushers to seat the number of guests invited.

Answer: If you are leaving the ushers out of the procession because so many men look gloomy, you may do so, but it is very unusual to leave any of the ushers out of the procession. Because you are having only two bridesmaids, you do not necessarily limit the number of ushers.

Menus for all occasions are found in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Buffet Dinners, Lunches and Suppers," obtainable for a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to the Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Christmas season is the time of year when old maids, middle-aged bachelors and children married couples wish they had some kids.

Count me among the yearners. When the shadow of Santa Claus shows on the horizon, I begin to look through rose-colored glasses at the posterity I don't have.

But in my time I've been one of the best baby sitters in the business. The young couple's best pal—that's me. While they trot off to the movies I stay home and watch their small fry. And I don't mind bending an elbow out of joint patting myself on the back over how good I am at raising other people's saplings. I have yet to see the baby I can't quiet by cradling a bottle of warm milk in his kisser and threatening, "shut up," or I'll sell you to Brooklyn.

That Yale professor who learned about children by window-peeping through nurseries may not agree, but from ten years of serving as substitute watchdog for the neighbors' heirs and heirs-looms, I've come to a few conclusions on how to raise—not "rear"—the nation's potential presidents.

Now if I had a son—The first thing I would do is try to teach him not to be afraid of the dark. If he turned out like his old man he would be living in the dark most of his life.

I would subject him to a full course of "Mother Goose" and the fairy tale books so that he could live up to his ears as long as he could in that imaginative realm that keeps children children. When he finally asked with dawning suspicion, "just who is this guy Santa Claus, pa-pa?" I would send him to his mother. Women are supposed to break men's hearts.

I would make him take up a hobby, save a dime out of every dollar he earned, learn to type—

WHAT IT MEANS:

Taft Budget Cut Problem

By CLARKE BEACH
Washington—A large cut in the Federal budget such as Senator Taft has proposed would not be a mere fiscal operation, annoying to government bureaucrats.

It would necessitate major changes in national policies regarding such vast programs as federal aids to agriculture, reclamation and development of public power. Congress itself would have to shoulder the responsibility.

The Ohio Republican leader advocates a federal budget between 25 and 30 billion—at least seven billion less than the budget which it is reported President Truman will recommend for the coming fiscal year. Taft has not detailed how he would bring expenses down to his figure.

Why It's Difficult

Purely administrative expenses of the government amount to only $1.9 billion in the current fiscal year. This covers the payroll, office supplies, building rentals and upkeep, travel expenses, etc. A 20 per cent cut here would reduce the bill by only $380 million.

Obviously enormous reductions must be made on the other categories if seven billion is to be saved. The choice must be among these items, which comprise the Budget Bureau's breakdown of federal expenditures in the current year:

Veterans' Program	$6,200,000,000
Refunds on Taxes	1,600,000,000
Public Debt Interest	5,000,000,000
National Defense	18,500,000,000
Agricultural Aids	1,200,000,000
Social Security	1,200,000,000
Public Works	1,000,000,000
General Expenses	1,900,000,000
International
Finance	4,200,000,000

Total $41,000,000,000

Included in "national defense" is the cost of terminal leave pay for enlisted men, amounting to $2,400,000,000. "International Finance" includes foreign loans. These items are not continuing expenses.

What Can't Be Cut

The veterans' program, tax refunds and interest are considered by fiscal authorities as "uncontrollable," not subject to reduction. Nor could most of the expenditures under social security, such as unemployment relief and retirement allowances, be altered. Budget pruning must be applied, therefore, to one or another of the programs administered by the various departments if substantial savings are to be made.

Since all of the departments' work is done by specific authorization of Congress, it is Congress which must decide which program is to be eliminated.

A glance at the Interior Department budget shows that about half the total consists of construction projects such as extension of Bonneville power transmission lines and the billion-dollar reclamation program in California.

Further Complications

In the Agriculture Department budget the chief items are agricultural research and the various crop adjustment activities, designed to aid the farmer to increase his income. The largest expense in the latter category already has been eliminated—crop subsidies.

Congress could whittle on such activities as the forest service, which controls forest fires, maintains roads, etc.

In the Commerce Department, Congress would have to decide to curtail or eliminate such agencies as the Weather Bureau, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Bureau of Standards, the Census Bureau of the Civil Aeronautics Authority. The department's statistical and informational services for business are minor items.

Some of the government's top administrators definitely oppose a blanket cut, reducing the budgets of all agencies on a flat percentage basis. This would have the effect of spreading their funds thin, they say, and reducing efficiency. They would prefer to see some of the agencies eliminated entirely.

As for the largest single item in the federal budget, national defense, a sharp reduction there would necessitate a complete reversal in our military and international policy.

Some high ranking officers say we need no less than we have if we are to retain our present status in world affairs.

Christmas Programs

The Chichester and Willow Wesleyan Methodist Churches have announced the dates of their annual Christmas programs. The Willow church will hold its program on Saturday, December 21 at 8 p. m. The Chichester church will hold its program on Monday, December 23 also at 8 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Postmasters' Yule Party

The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Postmasters' Association will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the central branch of the Kingston post office. This meeting is to be a Christmas party for all postmasters and their assistants, each to bring a small gift to be put under the Christmas tree.

Rain Badly Needed

"Even the Australians have taken to praying," says a correspondent in Queensland, writing to Belfast, describing the drought "down under," while the people of Northern Ireland are facing a harvest crisis due to interminable rain. "It is now five months since we've had any rain," says the Australian. "It is one of our worst droughts."

THE Automatic ELECTRICALLY HEATED BLANKET

It's not too early to think about that "extra special gift" you're going to give that extra special person.

When your Christmas gift is an Automatic Electrically Heated Blanket you give a gift of sleeping comfort such as that special person has never known!

Suppose some thoughtful person were to give one to you. Here's what you would get! One beautiful, soft, deep-napped blanket to cover you with comfort no matter how cold the night. Your whole bed would be gently warmed to the temperature you select. You would be protected against chills and overheating—spared the annoyance of waking to add or throw off covers. Because you waste no body energy trying to keep warm with too few covers—because no mountains of heavy covers crush you and rob you of even more energy, you can sleep . . . sleep as you never slept before.

See the electrically heated blanket displays in local stores. Select your color and have your gift put away for Christmas delivery.

Rags to Rugs

It's doubly smart to be thrifty these days. Why banish those hopelessly worn cottons, linens and woolsens to the scrap bag? Chances are, there's plenty of good fabric for several handmade rugs.

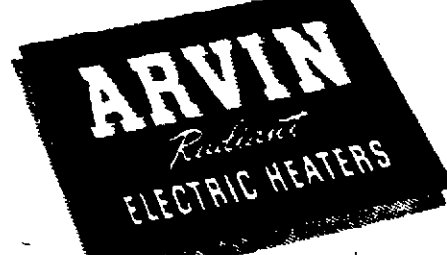

Even your old stockings can be dyed, cut into bias strips and crocheted into a lovely rug. Never mind if the stockings aren't uniform in color; tone variations will add to the rug's attractiveness.

The Kingston Daily Freeman has prepared a booklet of instructions for making hooked, braided, crocheted, woven rugs, including Navaho, Oriental style, French knot and many other lovely types. How to prepare the fabric, work out designs—everything you need to know!

Send 25c (coin) for "New Ideas for Handmade Rugs" to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 West 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address, booklet title.

Maroon Cagers Will Meet Monticello High Here Friday Night

Kiammen Favored To Register Second Victory of Season

Monties Lost Opening Tilt to Middies Last Week by 38-28; Last League Game Until January

DUSO League basketball will get its final fling this Friday night before the holiday season with three contests on the docket during the second week of play. After Friday night's contests loop teams will be idle until Friday, January 3.

Monties Play Here
Kingston High School, easy winners over Port Jervis last Friday by 64 to 21, will face a tougher foe this week when Coach Ken Somerville's boys from Monticello High appear at municipal auditorium. In other league skirmishes, Port Jervis travels to Newburgh and Liberty appears at Middletown.

On the basis of last week's results, Kingston, Newburgh and Liberty are pre-game favorites.

Although seeking its second straight win this week to keep them up in the standings, Kingston has a better job ahead in facing Monticello. The locals are anxious to get some revenge for last season's pair of losses handed out by Monticello. The Monties tripped Kingston in the first game by 31 to 27 and then returned and eked out a 41 to 40 conquest. They were Kingston's only league defeats of the 1945-46 campaign.

While the Maroons were tramping over Port last Friday night, Monticello was losing a 38 to 28 decision to Coach Mac Wagner's squad from Middletown. Monticello held a slim lead at the end of the first half and third period but a late Middletown uprising squashed the bid for victory.

Ed Weaver, Kingston's lanky center, ran true to form in Friday's victory over Port Jervis when he swished the cords for 20 points in two periods of play. After amassing those 20 markers, G. Warren Kias offered to let him sit out the rest of the game on the sidelines while Kias' junior varsity completed the rout of Port Jervis.

Weaver's scoring ability gave promise that once again Kingston must be reckoned with as a DUSO contender this year. The big blonde center sparked his Maroon teammates in sensational form in the opener last Friday night.

One of the last week's biggest disappointments was Ken Lowe's inability to find his shooting eye during the first half when he was held scoreless by the inept Port quintet. Lowe, a promising player luminary in K.H.S. annals, just couldn't find the hoop in the opening tilt. Tommy McGrane, sub for Lowe, picked up when the varsity forward couldn't get going, however, and waded in for six points.

Weaver Is Sparkplug

Mort Kaplan, forward and Davie Litvack, sub center, were the big guns in Monticello's opening game last week by scoring 13 and six points respectively. Kaplan, a very polished player according to advance reports, is Monticello's biggest threat this year and with some support, the Somerville quintet will be a tough customer to beat.

Liberty, paced by the high-scoring Don Huffmire, went on to its opening win last Friday night by clubbing Newburgh 46 to 21. Huffmire, roving center, flipped in 13 points and three fouls to come within two points of tying the DUSO League scoring record jointly held by Rod Sagendorf and Tony Albany of Kingston. Huffmire was well-liked by his mates in rolling up his gigantic total.

The Redskins moved over Newburgh with plenty to spare despite the absence of Captain Tommy Finn who is out for the season with a bad heart. Finn collapsed to the floor a week ago in a non-league contest.

Billy the Kid and his gang of outlaws ranged as far north as Las-Vegas in northeastern New Mexico. This city was the destination of many of their illegal parties.

Evans Has Accepted Vice-Presidency of Detroit Ball Club

Veteran Baseball Man Resigns His Post in Southern Association; Starts January 1

One of minor league baseball's most able men today moved into the executive vice-presidency of the Detroit Tigers with the announcement that William G. "Billy" Evans, president of the Southern Association, had accepted the American League post, the Associated Press reported.

Walter O. Briggs, president of the Tigers, said that Evans would assume his new job January 1 when George M. Trautman resigns the position to take over as commissioner of minor league baseball.

Briggs said Evans telephoned him that he had obtained his release from his contract with the Southern Association today. The contract had two more years to run.

The Detroit president did not say what Evans's salary would be, but the Detroit job reportedly pays approximately twice the $21,000 Evans received last year. He had described the offer as "outstanding" when he asked the Southern Association for release.

Meanwhile, it was announced that the Southern Association would meet January 15 to name a president to succeed Evans.

Prominently named to succeed Evans have been Larry Gilbert, manager and part owner of the Nashville Vols; Earl Mann, president of the Atlanta Crackers; Ed Barry, president of the Memphis Chickies; Joe Engel, president of the Chattanooga Lookouts.

Strong Boy Will Study
A 13-year-old school boy, "Billy Boy" Fifth, has become locally famous in Belfast, Northern Ireland, for remarkable weight-lifting feats. He is credited with lifting 200 pounds with ease. He was offered a contract with a circus but says he will stay in school until 16. By then, he hopes, by serious training to become a champion.

$75,000 Is Asked

Los Angeles, Dec. 17 (AP)—Joan Berry's attorneys have put a price of $75,000 on their successful suit to have comedian Charles Chaplin declared father of Miss Berry's child. Counsel Joseph Scott and A. H. Risse yesterday petitioned Superior Court for a judgment of that amount against the actor. Chaplin's attorney, C. E. Millikan, told the court the actor was worth $3,000,000.

Dutchmen, Port Ewen Win Church Games on Monday

The First Dutch Reformed cagers defeated the Trinity Methodist five 24 to 16 in the Church Junior League Monday night and Port Ewen Reformed downed St. Peter's by 47 to 38 in the Church Senior Basketball League.

Post was high for the Dutchmen with 10 points for the Wilkins tossed 12 of the 16 points for the Methodists. First Dutch held an 18 to 10 edge at halftime.

Leading by 20 to 17 at halftime, Port Ewen increased its lead over St. Peter's in the final two quarters of play to come out on top with a victory. Maines and Short were the big guns for the winners with 19 and 16 points respectively. Gruenewald and Carter scored 13 apiece for St. Peter's.

Shultis Scores 26 As Potters Batter Kerhonkson, 50-38

Potter Brothers, members of the Y. M. C. A. Senior Basketball League, snapped the five-game streak of the Kerhonkson Otto Clippers Saturday night at municipal auditorium by scoring a 50 to 38 victory. The game was played as the preliminary to the Kingston-Chief Newark Bobcat professional contest.

Shultis Scores 26

Leading the attack for Potters was Jess Shultis, former Kingston High School basketball star, who gleamed 26 points. Jess tossed in 13 fields for his hefty total. Sickler, Potter guard, again playing a fine game, followed Shultis in the scoring column with 10.

Krom was high for Kerhonkson with 14 points.

Potters took a 26 to 16 edge at halftime and continued to pile up a big lead in the second half.

Downey Still Holds Out

When 72-year-old James Downey locked up Downey's Bar in Dun Laoghaire, Dublin, on a recent evening, he nodded cheerfully to a man walking in the gutter outside. The man was shouldering a board reading "Strike on at Downey's. Non-union labor employed." The 2,757th day of the Downey Bar strike was over. It started in 1938 when Downey demanded his reinstatement. Downey would not be dictated to. "I've got so used to the pickets that if they are late I ring up the union and complain," he says.

Three Games Slated for 'Y' Basketball League Tonight

Ches Emile-Maddens Play Opener at 7 P.M., Two Other Games Hold Bearing on Loop

Another big basketball triple-header is scheduled for the Y.M.C.A. boards tonight starting at 7 o'clock when the "Y" Senior Basketball League resumes action. Ches Emile, victorious in its first two starts, will meet the Madden Aces in the opening game tonight.

The 8 o'clock attraction is expected to furnish plenty of action with two top teams slated to collide. The Aborns and V.F.W. cagers, both with two straight conquests, are scheduled for this contest. At 9 o'clock Potter Brothers will play the Marines.

Aborns, V.F.W. and Ches Emile currently pace the loop standings with two wins in as many games. Potters and the Marines are next with one victory and one defeat apiece. The Pioneer A.C. Madden Aces and Hustlers have yet to win a game in two starts.

Game Slated Thursday

Following tonight's triple-header the usual Thursday night clash will find the Pioneer A.C. quintet playing the Hustlers.

The Pioneers, stopped in both games to date, held three long workouts at the "Y" court last week and reports have it that the club is beginning to show marked improvement. "Most of the Pioneer club is made up of experienced players," Lou Schafer asserted today "but as yet they're not up to the form of other league clubs."

K.A.A. Will Meet Wednesday Night; Full Turnout Asked

Plans for Big January Event Will Be Made at Meeting; Starts 8 P. M. at Elks

An important meeting of the Kingston Athletic Association has been called by President Thomas M. Davitt for Wednesday evening at the Elks' Club on Fair street to make further plans for the annual "Hot Stove League" session scheduled for January. Wednesday's meeting will commence at 8 o'clock and a full turnout of members is requested.

"We haven't met for quite awhile now," President Davitt commented this morning, "but we're sure interest in this live-wire sports organization hasn't decreased any."

The first annual "Hot Stove

League" parley was held last January at the Y. M. C. A. at which time George Stirrweiss, Yankee infielder, was guest speaker. Al Cuccinello and Don Savage also were in attendance.

Cuccinello Is Named
Tony Cuccinello, veteran major league baseball star, will manage the Tampa Smokers of the Florida International League in 1947. Tom Spicola, president of the club, announced today. Cuccinello began his professional career with Syracuse in 1926 and played subsequently with Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Boston in the National League and Chicago in the American.

Horse Trainer Dies
Clyde Phillips, one of the west's best known horse trainers, died at the San Fernando Government Hospital in Los Angeles Sunday night, the Associated Press reported today. Clyde, 55 years old, lately had been employed as trainer for movie star Fred Astaire's string. He had been ill for many months.

Push Probe Into Alleged Attempt To 'Fix' Game

New York, Dec. 17 (AP)—The New York County Grand Jury pushed its investigation today into ramifications of an alleged attempt to "fix" Sunday's National Football League championship game between the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears.

Assistant District Attorney George Monaghan said the alleged "fix" which resulted yesterday in a grand jury indictment of Alvin J. Paris, 28-year-old novelty concern officer, was launched by a "very large bookmaking outfit outside the state of New York."

Paris was indicted on charges of attempting to bribe Merle Hapes and Frank Filchok, backfield stars of the Giants. He was specifically indicted on two counts charging violation of a penal code section outlawing bribes, attempted bribes or other measures to "influence the outcome of a professional sports contest."

Hapes was declared ineligible just before the game by league president Bert Bell but Filchok, passing ace of the Giants, was permitted to play and threw the passes resulting in the Giants' only scores against the Bears, who won 24-14.

Bell offered this explanation of why Filchok was permitted to play:

"During a conference Saturday with league officials, owners of the New York Giants and the players involved at Gracie Mansion, home of Mayor William O'Dwyer, the mayor 'took Filchok to another room and questioned him.'"

He returned after a while and announced to us and to the detectives: 'This boy has a clean bill of health and is completely all right. I think he should play tomorrow.'"

"I don't know anything more than that. The mayor said he should play, so he played."

Hapes had been suspended Sunday, Bell said, because he had not reported the bribe attempt to officials.

The grand jury indictment said the bribes were offered Filchok on December 11, and Hapes on December 8, the day the Giants were defeating the Washington Redskins to clinch the eastern half of the league championship and the right to meet the Bears.

There are no police charges against the players, who police said rejected the bribe offers.

The first horse brought to Canada arrived at Quebec in 1647.

Harvard Sociologist Would Clean Hollywood

Boston, Dec. 17 (AP)—Hollywood film society is a "synthetic, childless population of comparatively simple people without too much intellect," according to Carle C. Zimmerman, Harvard College professor of sociology.

Prof. Zimmerman told the Boston Congregational Club last night that "one of the first things that has to be done to control the family system is to clean out that group of disintegrated people in Hollywood."

He said that anti-familism destroyed the Greek and Roman civilization and that "the upheaval of the family is beginning today and will probably spread more in the future."

Four Called to Trial

Warsaw, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Supreme National Tribunal called four former Nazi officials to trial today on charges connected with the mass execution of Poles and Jews and the destruction of Warsaw. The four were Ludwig Fischer, governor of Warsaw from 1939 through 1944; Max Daume, police colonel; Joseph Meisinger, Gestapo chief, and Ludwig Leisz, civil guard captain. The prosecution was expected to ask their execution.

Kayes Cop Fifth Straight; Evelyn Moore Cracks 578

Local Female Trundlers Win Match by 71 Pins
Saturday: Rose Schatzel Hits 365

Kingston's brilliant combine of female trundlers—the Kaye Sportswear club—chalked up their fifth straight exhibition victory at Middletown last Saturday night, winning the match by 71 pins. No special match is scheduled for this week-end.

Moore Pounds 578
Evelyn Moore, one of Kingston's top-flight women bowlers, paced Kayes to the fifth straight conquest Saturday with a crushing 578 triple on scores of 147-210-221. Rose Schatzel, anchor, came in next with 565 with high game of 195.

Miss Roselli of Middletown was high for the losers with a 560 series.

The score:
KAYE SPORTSWEAR Moore 147, 210, 221—578; Lapine 156, 167, 223—546; Fleming 136, 212, 148—496; Schatzel 181, 189, 195—565. Totals 195-578. MIDDLETOWN: E. Smith 145, 153, 150—448; E. K.B.A. Will Meet Wednesday; New Film Is Scheduled

Full Turnout of All League Presidents Is Requested; to Start at 8 P.M.

An important meeting of the Kingston Bowling Association will be held at the Y.M.C.A. Wednesday evening starting at 8 o'clock sharp. Jack MacLellan, secretary, announced this morning. All presidents of city leagues are urgently requested to be on hand.

A special showing of the film "In the Pocket" released by the American Bowling Congress, will be shown following the regular business session.

Secretary MacLellan also requests league presidents to bring in funds for the Castle Point Veteran contributions.

By BILLY SIXTY

TO THE RIGHT: During an exhibition recently a member of the opposing team missed the No. 10 pin five times and also chopped the No. 6 off the 6-10 leave. His ball hooked away to the left or right side of the 10 each time, and broke too sharply on the 6-10 to cause the "cherry chop."

This happened, of course, on RUN alleys. The bowler complained that he had little trouble with the No. 10 when the alley surface was slick, which is natural because the smoother surface reduces the hook break.

A tip on how to "kill" the ball worked out excellently after the match. He had been taking an erect stance, with the ball held erect high, just as he did for a strike ball. I had him bend the shoulders forward—stoop over—and let the ball be held approximately between knee-and-belt line level. His body was totally RELAXED.

I had him hold the ball loosely, with the thumb pointed forward AT THE 10 PIN. His stance was a little to the left of center of the alley to give him the same cross-alley angle he had had before.

The rest was easy. He merely kept the thumb pointed at the pin on the follow-through to avoid wrist turn—and hook. The ball straightened out and the "tough" spare became simple to make. (Copyright by John F. Dille Co.)

Mixed League

The close race for top honors in the Winter Mixed League fared anew Sunday night at the Central Recreation drives when Kaye Sportswear, although holding onto its lead, saw it shrink to a mere one full game. Kayes took a pair from the Chalet, now in third place, while the Slover-Janssen-Schline combine fought back by taking three games from Wilber Coal to go into second only one length out.

The Chalet club is in third only three games out of first while Wilber Coal and Leventhals are tied for fourth four games back. Williams Lake and the Colonial Cleaners are also tied five games out and the United Cleaners hold down the cellar six games in back of Kayes.

Johnny "Red" Schatzel and Rose Schatzel led the Kayes to a double win Sunday with triples of 561 and 558. Rose blasted a 208 single while "Red" hit 203. Len Freer aided in the double win by rolling 542. Johnny "Red" Sangi's 213 and 502 topped The Chalet.

Despite the absence of a 500 triple, the S.-J.-S. won all three from Wilbers. Art Jansen's 495 topped the winners and Vivien Slover had herself a 213 single. She wound up with a 492 three-timer. Evelyn Moore's fine string of 178-185-182 gave her 545 for the losers. Harry Wilber posted 541.

Leventhals kept in the race by plucking two from Williams Lake on Don Murphy's 215 single and 550 triple. Chris Backman helped with a 514 series. Bud Evans, anchor for the losers, had one of his better nights with a sizzling 209 and 609 but to no avail. Phil Gehring smashed 531 for Williams Lake.

The battle for last place found the United Cleaners winning two from the Colonial Cleaners but the former club still holds down the bottom position. The Colonials took the opener 54-556 but the United came back strong to take the next two. Johnny Ferraro posted a 214 single and 583 triple for the winners. Bob Myers' 226 and 526 paced the Colonials. Dick Howard registered a 202 in his only game.

Ferraro Blazes 696
Johnny "Ace" Ferraro just missed becoming a member of the "700 Club" for the second time this year Sunday afternoon when he belted the Central Rec alley pins for a crushing 696 triple for Jones Dairy who won all three games from Walden in the Hudson Valley League.

"The Ace" opened with 219 and finished with sizzlers of 235 and 242 for his hefty three-timer. Ferraro's 235 in the middle fray helped the dairymen to register a 1018 game. The winners wound up with a 2997 team triple.

Harold Broskie and Johnny Schatzel followed Ferraro with 638 and 604 triples. Broskie high-

Newhouser Is Rated Top American Loop Pitcher for 1946

Hal's 26 Wins Were Tied by Feller but Tiger Ace Lead League With Earned Runs

Chicago, Dec. 17 (AP)—Hal Newhouser of the Detroit Tigers was officially recognized today as the top pitcher in the American League for the second straight year.

Newhouser's 26 victories during the 1946 season tied him with Rapid Robert Feller of the Cleveland Indians for the most games won, but the big Tiger southpaw was No. 1 in earned runs with 1.94 per game compared with his 1.81 which led the league in 1945, when he won 25 and lost 9.

Toiling in 293 innings during 37 games, Newhouser compiled a record of 26 triumphs against nine defeats, gave up 215 hits for 77 runs against him, allowed 98 bases on balls and struck out 273 batsmen.

His strikeout mark was topped only by Feller who whiffed 348 of the 1,331 men to face him.

In winning 26 games while losing 9, Feller's earned run average was 2.18, third best among pitchers who worked ten or more complete games. The New York Yankees' Spud Chandler was second to Newhousers in effectiveness with a 2.10 earned run figure for 34 games, 20 of which he won against only eight losses.

Leading the won-lost column was the Boston Red Sox' Dave (Doc) Ferriss with a 25-6 record for a mark of .806. Ferriss was 14th in the earned-run department with 3.25.

The fifth 20-game winner in the league was Boston's Tex Hughson with 20 triumphs against 11 defeats. Hughson's earned run average was 2.75.

In addition to Newhouser, Chandler, Feller and Hughson, five other pitchers who worked in 10 or more complete games wound up with an under three earned-run average. They were Floyd Bevens of New York, who won 16 and lost 13 and ranked fourth with 2.23; Paul Trout, Detroit, 2.35; Ed Lopat, Chicago, 2.73; Milt Haefner, Washington, 2.84; and Bobo Newson, Philadelphia—Washington, 2.92.

Feller's outstanding record included appearance in more games, 48, than any other hurler; most innings pitched, 371; most complete games, pitched, 36. He allowed the most hits, 277, and also the most walks, 153. His 348 strikeouts broke a league record which had stood since 1904.

About 1830, a favorite piano-forte composition was the "Soufflé Box Waltz."

Refreshments Are Feature of Legion Meeting Tonight

Tonight's regular meeting of the American Legion will feature one of the most attractive social programs since Commander Ernest A. Steuding took over leadership of Kingston Post, 150.

After the business session, scheduled for 8 p. m., there will be a barbequed beef luncheon, with French fries, etc., and a special entertainment program with Harry Maisenheider at the piano. Officers of the post hope for a large attendance of Legionnaires. Commander Steuding said, especially the entertainment committee members who are making elaborate plans to give them a full evening's enjoyment.

Among the items of business will be discussion of a membership drive and a report by Larry Glenon, athletic officer, on Kingston Post basketball team.

A.F.L. Asks Members To Check New Congress

Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—The A.F.L. called on its 7,000,000 members today to try to discourage the new Congress from enacting what it fears may be "highly objectionable" labor legislation.

In a letter to all union officers on state, city and local union levels, A.F.L. President William Green urged the members to let their local congressmen know that they are on the alert for anti-labor votes.

Green expressed fear attempts will be made to impose "illegal" union shop agreements, restrict the exercise of the right to strike, subject workers to civil suits for damages for participation in strikes in alleged violation of contracts and, in addition, enact further objectionable labor legislation similar to the notorious Case bill which was passed at the last session of Congress.

President Truman vetoed the Case strike control bill.

20 Boys, Girls Found To Be Organized Gang

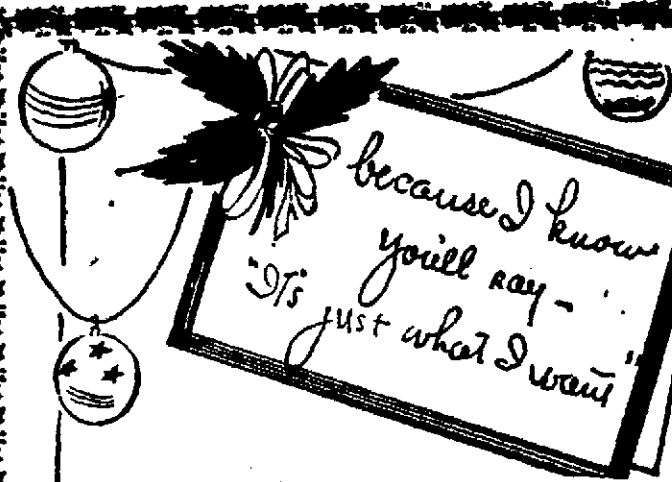

Denver, Dec. 17 (AP)—A group of 20 teen-aged boys and girls, described by Policeman Phil Thompson of the Denver Juvenile Bureau as the most highly organized gang in the city's history, was in custody today.

Officers said the gang, which included four 14-year-old girls, was "so well organized that the town was divided into districts and thefts were made in that manner."

Thompson declared one youth, questioned concerning a robbery, replied, "no, that wasn't in our territory."

Police said more than $5,000 in loot, ranging from typewriters to automobiles and clothing, was seized by the gang since it began operating last August.

Thompson said 18 of the youths were 16 years old or less. The youngest was 12.

Cheer for Housewives
Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—Here's a cheering note for housewives: The Agriculture Department expects food prices, now at record high levels, to drop somewhat within the next three to six months. The extent of the decline was not specified, but the department said it probably would not be as great as after World War I. A less optimistic note was sounded for meat prices. For the remainder of the winter, these are expected to decline but little from present high levels. And in the spring, pork and lamb prices may even increase, but beef costs, particularly for the better grades, may go down.
